2022 NEWSLETTER

From the Pastor's Desk:

How is it with your soul?

"And let us consider how to provoke one another to love and good deeds, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day approaching."

– Hebrews 10:24-26

From time to time, I am reminded of my Methodist heritage, and in particular of John Wesley, who founded the movement that eventually sprouted Methodist churches. What many people don't realize is that he was one of a few pioneers of the modern church practice of "small groups". Such groups exist within many churches today so that their members have the opportunity to fellowship and encourage one another in their faith more deeply than what typically happens with one hour a week in the pews on Sunday morning.

Wesley organized opportunities for Christians to "bring small numbers of people together (usually twelve) to pray, read the Bible and listen to exhortations, and to encourage and enjoy each other's company."* At these meetings, the question would often be asked, "How is it with your soul?" The intent behind that question was to encourage one another in Christian growth, maintain accountability, and offer a place of encouragement and rededication as a response to setbacks.

One of my hopes for this year is to establish opportunities where people can gather to fellowship and study scripture (or other relevant literature) in the pursuit of improving our relationships with one another and growing in our faith. During February, we'll be looking at the Dietrich Bonhoeffer book "Life Together" and during Lent, we'll do "Coffee and Catechism", a chance for a refresher on the basics of Lutheran faith and belief. As the year progresses, I hope to offer similar opportunities.

I hope you'll consider joining us in one of these groups. We may not ask you how it is with your soul every week, but we will seek to encourage each other and grow together in faith.

PERSONNEL COMMITTEE UPDATE In January our very active committee discussed several issues relative to helping all staff members perform their job requirements at an optimum level. Annual reviews have been conducted with each employee, and the committee has received several excellent suggestions which could assist our St. Luke Church mission and the congregation at large. In some cases, direction for improved goals and job clarifications from Church Council is needed. Some staff suggestions are clearly under the purview of other formal committees and will be reported to the Executive and Church Council meeting. Additionally, the Personnel Committee will review all present and formal job descriptions during the coming months.

It is the feeling of our committee that during the trying times of the last two years the dedication of our staff has been exemplary. As always, kind and positive feedback is warranted in all congregational interactions with staff.

SEAFARERS COLLECTION HITS 10TH ANNIVERSARY

In total, 733 bags were picked up from the synod office on November 10 by Seafarers International. This year marked the tenth anniversary of our first collection and in those years, the synod has donated 6,309 bags.

Director Marsh Drege commented, “What a rich connection to seafarers this synod has. Missing this year because of his recent passing was Bob Bradford who helmed the project for many years. Also missed were Office Manager Brenda Krouse and van loading extraordinaire, Bishop Barbara Collins, both of whom are instrumental in this mammoth undertaking and were needed elsewhere at that time. It’s been a decade of remarkable mission and outreach in Jesus’ name to seafarers coming from around the globe. A legacy to be proud of and grateful for.”

In 2020, Seafarers International House distributed more than 2,000 Christmas at Sea bags or “satchels” to seafarers away from home. They’re filled with little things that mean the world to a seafarer; a sweatshirt; a knitted cap; a chocolate bar; a hand-written card. These bags have made an enormous difference to people who are away from their loved ones. Find out more about Christmas-at-Sea: <https://www.sihnyc.org/christmas-at-sea>
